

Guidelines for Parents and Care Givers

Chabad Youth is committed to creating an environment where all its community can enjoy participation in our activities, events or programs without experiencing abusive, insulting, threatening or other anti-social behaviour.

We call on all parents and/or care givers (and other spectators) associated with Chabad Youth to:

- observe our organisation’s guidelines for parents and/or care givers;
- when necessary, politely and respectfully remind others of their obligations under these guidelines; and
- in the event of serious or ongoing breaches of these guidelines by another person, to report the matter to a staff member so that appropriate action can be taken.

Guidelines for Parents and Care Givers

Our primary consideration is the participation, enjoyment and safety of your children as well as other children and young people in Chabad Youth activities, programs or events. As parents and care givers your role is to support these outcomes by:

- encouraging your child’s participation in a positive manner;
- advising the Chabad Youth staff of any additional support that your child may have or develops over the course of the program, to assist in the safe participation of the program e.g. asthma, allergies, hearing difficulties;
- advising the Chabad Youth staff of any changes in contact information in the event of an emergency;
- not engaging in behaviour that discriminates against any other person on the basis of age, gender, race, ability, colour, religion, language, politics, sexual orientation, national or ethnic origin or ability to live at home;
- not engaging in, or threatening to engage in, violent, physical or verbal confrontations with any other person;
- engaging with Chabad Youth personnel in a positive manner and do not criticise the personnel in the presence of your child. Report any concerns to the Educator in Charge.
- ensuring your child has adequate supervision at all times when you visit Chabad Youth service;
- ensuring that your child is picked up on time at the conclusion of an activity;
- notify the Educator in Charge in writing if your child is to be picked up by a person unknown to the program, and complete the authorisation form.
- not taking photos of other children unless you have consent of their parents/care givers;
- not being affected by alcohol, drugs and other behaviour altering substances;
- report any concerns regarding the safety, wellbeing and welfare of a child or young person to a staff member immediately;
- provide feedback and input on Chabad Youth services and decisions that affect the safety, wellbeing and welfare of children and young people.
