PURPOSE AND BACKGROUND

- (1) To make sure that we manage complaints and concerns effectively, and that our complaints handling processes are clear and understood by children, families, communities and staff
- (2) This policy is a requirement under the Education and Care Services National Regulations. The approved provider must ensure that policies and procedures are in place for dealing with complaints and take reasonable steps to ensure those policies and procedures are followed. Our complaint handling system must be child focused and address the management of a complaint that alleges a child is exhibiting harmful sexual behaviours (reg 168(2)(o))
- (3) We are required to have to have processes for complaints and concerns that are child-focused under under the Victorian Child Safe Standards.
- (4) This policy also helps us to fulfil our obligation under the Reportable Conduct Scheme to have systems in place to prevent and respond to child abuse

SCOPE

- (5) This policy applies to:
 - ‘Staff’: the approved provider, persons with management or control, nominated supervisor, paid workers, volunteers, work placement students, and third parties at our service (e.g., contractors, subcontractors, self-employed persons, employees of a labour hire company)
 - Children who are in our care, their parents, families and care providers
 - Visitors to our service, including allied health support workers
- (6) It applies to all physical, digital and online environments of our service (including off-site and outside of operating hours)
- (7) Our Child Protection Policy and procedures set out in detail requirements and procedures for staff if they witness an incident, receive a disclosure or form a suspicion involving harm or risk of harm to a child – including mandatory reporting and reportable conduct

DEFINITIONS

(8) The following definitions apply to this policy and related procedures:

- ‘Concern’ - any potential issue that could impact negatively of the safety and well-being of children
- ‘Complaint’ - expression of dissatisfaction made to or about an organisation, related to its products, services, staff or the handling of a complaint, where a response or resolution is explicitly or implicitly expected or legally required. A complaint may also be about harm or risk of harm to a child by an adult or another child, including allegations of abuse, inappropriate conduct or other misconduct by a staff member, volunteer or other individual involved in our service
- ‘Harm’ and ‘risk of harm’ are used in this policy as overarching terms that cover neglect and various forms of abuse. It includes physical, sexual and psychological abuse; neglect; ill-treatment; grooming; exposure to family violence; commercial child sexual exploitation; online child sexual abuse; and sexual abuse that is perpetrated by other children and young people
- ‘Harmful sexual behaviours’ - a general term to describe behaviour in children under 18 years that fall across a spectrum of sexual behaviour problems, including those that are problematic to the child’s own development, as well as those that are coercive, sexually aggressive and predatory towards others
- ‘Inappropriate conduct’ is defined in the National Law as conduct in relation to a child that a reasonable person would consider inappropriate in an education and care service. Includes behaviour that is inconsistent with professional standards; causes or is likely to cause emotional, psychological or physical harm; or has violent or sexual connotations (see Child Safe Code of Conduct for a list of prohibited conduct)
- ‘Natural justice’ refers to the right to be made aware of, and respond to, information which will be used in the course of a decision that will negatively affect the person
- ‘Parents’ includes guardians and persons who have parental responsibilities for the child under a decision or order of court
- a. ‘Staff’, unless indicated otherwise, refers to approved provider, persons with management or control, the nominated supervisor, paid employees, volunteers, students, and third parties (e.g., contractors, casual staff) who perform work on our behalf

POLICY STATEMENT

A child-focused complaint system

- (9) Staff leaders will encourage a culture where staff, children and families feel confident and supported to speak up about suspicions, disclosures, or observations of harm or risk of harm to a child or breaches of our Child Safe Code of Conduct
- (10) Staff must understand that they are required to report concerns internally and externally, even if they are unsure
- (11) We will take all concerns seriously and respond in a timely, respectful and appropriate way, following our child protection reporting procedures and obligations under the law
- (12) We will encourage reporting by having clear policies and procedures, visible information for children and families, open and trusting relationships, and protective behaviour education that gives children the language and confidence to speak up
- (13) Victimisation, silencing or failure to act on a concern are not tolerated
- (14) Children's rights, health, safety, needs, welfare, wellbeing and best interests are the paramount consideration in our operations, and in any decisions or actions we take
- (15) A positive complaints culture is at the core of our child-focused complaint handling system
- (16) We are committed to:
 - Helping children understand their rights and to speak up when something is not right. Educators support children to raise any concerns or complaints. Educators are trained to respond to children verbally and non-verbally communicating that something is wrong
 - Keeping children safe. Anyone raising a concern or making a complaint, including those related to a child's safety and well-being, will feel safe and supported by us. We will always act on harm or risk of to a child
 - Letting everyone know that that complaints are welcome and will be taken seriously
 - Responding to complaints sensitively, impartially, professionally, transparently, promptly and thoroughly

An effective, accessible and culturally safe complaint system

- (17) Our process for managing complaints is easy to understand, accessible and culturally safe
- (18) Our Complaint Handling Procedure (attached) can be used by children, families, community members, visitors and staff if they want to raise a concern or make a complaint. It explains how to make the complaint, who to make it to, and how it will be dealt with. It gives staff clear steps to follow to manage any complaints they receive
- (19) Our Complaint Handling Procedure is written in plain language. We provide appropriate versions for children and people from all backgrounds and abilities (e.g., pictures, diagrams, displays, audio, in different languages where needed)
- (20) We have a child-friendly poster showing the complaint process displayed in in the foyer and the back of the toilet doors

- (21) We must clearly display the name and contact details of the person to whom complaints should be made in a prominent location clearly visible from the entrance (National Regulations reg 173(2))
- (22) Parents are told how they can make a complaint or raise a concern during their child's enrolment and orientation
- (23) Our complaint handling system is explained to staff at induction and in their ongoing program of professional development
- (24) We have clearly defined roles and responsibilities for staff, so they know what they need to do if someone has a concern or a complaint
- (25) Our staff are trained to respond to concerns and complaints in a culturally sensitive way. That means that, when they are dealing with complaints, they are expected to:
- Treat everyone, regardless of culture, with respect
 - Be open-minded and flexible in their attitudes to different cultural practices
 - Understand that their own cultural values or practices are not the only way to solve a problem
 - Encourage and support everyone at the service to express and enjoy their cultural rights

Complaints and concerns about harm or risk of harm to a child

- (26) We take complaints and concerns about child safety and wellbeing seriously
- (27) For concerns about harm or risk of harm to a child (either by adults or by other children), breaches of our Child Safe Code of Conduct, inappropriate conduct or sexual misconduct by staff, or allegations that a child is exhibiting harmful sexual behaviour, staff follow our Child Protection Policy and Procedures
- (28) Depending on the complaint, we may need to:
- Make a report to the child protection authorities and/or police
 - Make a referral to family services or exchange of information with certain professionals/organisations, in line with the Family Violence Information Sharing Scheme and the Child Information Sharing Scheme
 - Notify the regulatory authority
 - Make a report under a reportable conduct scheme
- (29) The approved provider must, by law, notify the regulatory authority in writing about the following complaints:
- Within 24 hours of any complaints alleging that a serious incident has occurred or is occurring while a child was or is at the service, including allegations of inappropriate conduct

- Within 24 hours of any complaints that the National Law has been breached
- Within 24 hours of any allegation that physical or sexual abuse of a child has occurred or is occurring while the child is at the service
- Within 24 hours of becoming aware of reportable sexual conduct committed by staff, volunteers, students or contractors against, with or in the presence of a child, regardless of whether any criminal proceedings have begun or concluded (National Law Victoria s 174B) (within 24 hours)

Using complaints to support continuous improvement

- (30) We see complaints and concerns as a valuable source of information. They can highlight issues for our service, and we use them as a trigger for us to critically reflect on our infrastructure and operations (systems, documents, communication, practices, activities, policies, procedures)
- (31) We keep accurate and full records of complaints and actions taken in response
- (32) We review our complaints and reporting procedures regularly, in consultation with children their families and the community
- (33) We analyse the root cause of complaints with the view to fixing any flaws or shortcomings in our infrastructure, documents or operations
- (34) We track complaints to identify recurring issues within the service
- (35) Where appropriate, we request feedback on the complaint process using a questionnaire

PRINCIPLES

- (36) Our paramount concern is the best interest, rights, welfare, safety and wellbeing of children, and we are committed to implementing the Child Safe Standards and the National Quality Framework across all levels of our service
- (37) We are committed to implementing the approved learning framework
- (38) We comply with all relevant legislation, regulations and standards at all times
- (39) We have a child focused culture that enables and empowers children, families, community members, staff, and volunteers to raise any concerns or complaints
- (40) Anyone raising a concern or complaint, including those related to a child's safety and wellbeing, will feel safe and supported by us
- (41) We listen to children and take their concerns seriously. Our complaint system prioritises the safety of children and we have a culture of reporting
- (42) Every reasonable precaution is taken to protect children from harm and hazards in our physical and online environments
- (43) We always act on harm and risk of harm to a child

- (44) Staff are given the training, resources and support to act on child safety and wellbeing concerns and complaints
- (45) Our governance, operations policies, risk management plans, procedures, systems and practices are best-practice and up-to-date

POLICY COMMUNICATION, TRAINING AND MONITORING

- (1) This policy and related documents can be found in the front office and on our website
- (2) The approved provider and nominated supervisor provide information, training and other resources and support regarding the Complaint Handling Policy and Procedure and related documents
- (3) All staff (including volunteers and students) are formally inducted. They are given access to, review, understand and formally acknowledge this Complaint Handling Policy and Procedure and related documents
- (4) The nominated supervisor runs a professional development program for each staff member, which covers this policy and procedures
- (5) Roles and responsibilities are clearly defined in this policy and in individual position descriptions. They are communicated during staff inductions and in ongoing training
- (6) The approved provider and nominated supervisor monitor and audit staff practices and address non-compliance. Breaches to this policy are taken seriously and may result in disciplinary action against a staff member
- (7) At enrolment, families are given access to our Complaint Handling Policy and Procedure and related documents
- (8) Families are notified in line with our obligations under the National Regulations when changes are made to our policies and procedures

PROCEDURE - Complaint Handling

INTRODUCTION

- This procedure applies to our Complaint Handling Policy
- It is our child safe procedure for managing complaints and concerns from children, families, the community and staff. It describes the steps we will take to manage any complaint or concern we receive
- We are committed to ensuring complaints are dealt with in a timely, transparent, professional, confidential, thorough and impartial manner, and that affected parties are advised of the outcome and their rights of appeal. We are also committed to ensuring our process is child-focussed and accessible
- 'Staff', unless indicated otherwise, refers to approved provider, persons with management or control, the nominated supervisor, paid employees, volunteers, students, and third parties (e.g., contractors, casual staff) who perform work on our behalf

When to use this procedure

- If you are a child, parent, family member, community member, staff member (including volunteers and students) or visitor who has a complaint or concern
- If you are a staff member who receives a complaint
- If you are a staff member who is managing and/or investigating a complaint
- If you are a staff member who is the subject of a complaint
- Complaints or concerns might be about (for example):
 - Dissatisfaction with our service's or dealings with individuals
 - Serious incidents
 - Allegations of physical or sexual abuse or misconduct by a staff member, contractor, student, volunteer or another individual associated with our service
 - Breaches of our Child Safe Code of Conduct and/or inappropriate conduct
 - Conduct in not keeping with our policies and procedures
 - Incidents, allegations, disclosures and/or suspicions of harm or risk of harm to a child by adults or other children (i.e., all forms of abuse or neglect, including child exploitation or grooming (online and in-person))
 - The conduct of a child at our service
 - Allegations of a child exhibiting harmful sexual behaviour
 - Corruption, maladministration, waste of resources
 - Bullying or harassment
 - Discrimination based on disability, race, ethnicity, religion, sex, intersex status, gender identity or sexual orientation
 - Instances of racism – either by adults or children
 - Criminal conduct
 - Risks that are present in our service's environment (both online and physical) and activities
 - Inadequate working conditions for staff, students and volunteers

- The inadequate handling of a prior concern
- General concerns about the safety of a group of children or activity

Making a complaint

1. Who can make a complaint

Anyone can raise a concern or lodge a complaint. We encourage children, families, community members and staff to raise any concerns or complaints they have. Anonymous complaints can be made but our ability to investigate them may be hampered as a result.

Complaints and concerns can be made in any way that feels comfortable - for example, over the telephone, by email or in person. We will facilitate different ways of making complaints for people who have diverse backgrounds or needs for support. This means you can ask anyone at our service for help to make a complaint.

Children making a complaint can talk to anyone they trust (an educator, room leader or another staff member) and they can ask a friend, parent, or other family member to help. We will help children to let us know something is wrong in any way they feel comfortable.

2. Who to make the complaint to

- Minor complaints that can be easily solved can be raised directly with the person concerned. Both parties can try to resolve the issue and develop solutions to ensure the problem does not happen again. Discussions should remain private, confidential, respectful and open-minded. They should not involve other staff or visitors (e.g., parents) and should take place away from children
- Complaints that can't be resolved directly with the person concerned (for whatever reason) can be raised directly (or indirectly through another member of staff) with a more senior staff member, the nominated supervisor or the approved provider
- Complaints can be directed to the early childhood education and care regulatory authority at any time
- Complaints that relate to the harm or risk of harm to a child, or criminal or unlawful activity, should be reported to Child Protection or the police, and the <nominated supervisor and/or approved provider>
- Whistleblowers can contact the confidential whistleblower hotline, STOPline on 1300 304 550, <in accordance with our Whistleblower Policy>

3. Contacts

Receiving a complaint

1. Receiving a complaint about harm or the risk of harm to a child

Child safety will be prioritised above all else if we receive a complaint, concern or disclosure about harm or the risk of harm to a child. This includes but is not limited to: abuse (e.g., physical, psychological, sexual, grooming) or neglect by another child or adult, including a staff member; a child exhibiting harmful sexual behaviours; a breach of our Child Safe Code of Conduct; inappropriate conduct or discipline by staff; and reportable conduct and reportable sexual conduct by staff member.

We will take immediate action, including (where required):

- Calling 000 if a child is in immediate danger
- Making internal reports to management
- Making external reports, including to police where criminal conduct is suspected or child protection if there is a reasonable belief a child has suffered or is likely to suffer significant harm
- Responding to immediate risks posed by the subject the allegation, while protecting the rights of all parties
- Maintaining detailed and accurate written records.

Staff must act even if they are unsure and have not directly observed the harm (e.g. in the case of a disclosure) but must not investigate the matter themselves once they have formed a reasonable belief that a child is at risk.

Where staff have a significant concern for a child's wellbeing that does not reach the threshold for mandatory reporting, they must refer the matter to management to ensure the child receives the appropriate support.

Staff must follow our Child Protection Policy to ensure we meet our obligations for responding to and reporting incidents, allegations, disclosures and suspicions of harm, risk of harm, and concerns about a child's wellbeing.

2. Receiving a complaint involving an allegation of reportable conduct

If we receive an allegation of reportable conduct, we will follow our Child Protection Policy and Procedures, which includes information on:

- Notifying the agency responsible for administering the Reportable Conduct Scheme
- Conducting investigations
- Providing reports and taking action in response to any findings

3. Receiving other complaints

All other complaints we receive will be recorded <in our Complaints Register available> <insert location> [Centre Support provides a template in Karla Resources]. We record the following information:

- The contact details of the person making the complaint
- Details about the complaint (e.g., the nature, dates/times, people involved, notes on verbal discussions, written correspondence)
- Notes on how people want the problem to be resolved and any support that might be needed for the people involved

Complaints will be passed on to the <nominated supervisor or approved provider> as soon as practicable.

4. Acknowledging the complaint

The <nominated supervisor or approved provider> will acknowledge the complaint within 24 hours of receiving it and provide the person who made the complaint with a contact point, idea of likely timeframes and the next steps that will be taken. This may be done by phone, in person or in writing - whichever is the most appropriate method.

5. Reporting requirements in Victoria

- We must report to police anything that could be a criminal offence. This includes sexual assault, physical assault, grooming offences, and producing, disseminating or possessing child abuse material. There are criminal offences relating to failing to disclose information to police about child sexual offenses and failing to protect children against the risk of sexual abuse
- Mandatory reporting laws require us to report to Child Protection reasonable beliefs a child is need of protection because they have suffered or are likely to suffer significant harm as a result of physical injury or sexual abuse and the child's parents have not, or unlikely to protect, the child. We will report all forms of child abuse, including physical, sexual, emotional or psychological harm, serious neglect and family violence
- We must make a report to Child Protection if a child between the ages of 10 and 18 is exhibiting sexually abusive behaviour and may need therapeutic treatment
- The Reportable Conduct Scheme requires the approved provider to report to the Social Services Regulator allegations of child abuse (and other child-related misconduct) made against their workers and volunteers, irrespective of whether it relates to their employment or activities at the service

- The National Law require the approved provider to notify the regulatory authority of notifiable incidents, including complaints about serious incidents, inappropriate conduct towards a child by staff or volunteers, any reportable sexual conduct (sexual offences and sexual misconduct) committed by staff, and any incident or allegation that physical or sexual abuse of a child or children has occurred or is occurring while the child or children are being educated and cared for by the service

Assessing and investigating a complaint

1. Investigating complaints about harm or risk of harm to a child

Our service will not investigate any child protection matters unless instructed to do so by the relevant authorities. We will follow our Child Protection Policy and Procedures if the investigation relates to harm or risk of harm to a child, including allegations that a child is exhibiting harmful sexual behaviours.

2. Investigating complaints involving reportable conduct

There are strict rules for investigating allegations of reportable conduct under the Reportable Conduct Scheme. If we are required to investigate such an allegation, we will follow our Child Protection Policy and Procedures, which outlines how we need to investigate and report on such allegations.

3. Managing investigations

Any investigations conducted by our service will be managed by <the nominated supervisor and/or approved provider>, who will also be responsible for giving regular updates on the progress of the investigation to everyone involved in the complaint. <The nominated supervisor and/or approved provider> have the option to appoint someone else to conduct the investigation, including people outside our service.

4. Initial assessment

Although the steps involved will vary according to the nature of the complaint or concern, where appropriate, we will conduct an initial assessment, considering:

- Whether a formal investigation is required (for example, it may not be warranted if the complaint arose because of a minor misunderstanding or something that can be easily resolved to the satisfaction of everyone involved)
- Whether the complaint is outside our service's area of responsibility, i.e. should be directed to another organisation
- Whether other people/organisations are involved in the matter
- How feasible the suggested solution is

- The severity, urgency and complexity
- How to ensure everyone involved is safe (risk management)
- How to ensure the integrity of the investigation that will follow
- The impact on the person complaining, and anyone else involved
- Whether the problem might escalate

If the <approved provider or nominated supervisor> decides not to proceed with the investigation after initial enquiries, they will give the person making the complaint the reason/s in writing or whatever form is the most appropriate.

5. Formal investigation

Where appropriate and necessary, the <nominated supervisor and/or approved provider> will conduct a formal investigation. The investigation will be:

- Impartial - we manage all perceived and actual conflicts of interest and have an open mind about the evidence. The findings will be objective
- Confidential - except where we are required to disclose personal information because it is relevant to the safety and well-being of a child, we investigate complaints in private and respect all parties' confidentiality. Note, there are safeguards in place for people who report about child protection matters (see our Child Protection Policy)
- Transparent - we tell the person making the complaint and the subject of the complaint what the investigation will involve. All parties will be invited to provide information and respond where appropriate. We will provide regular updates on the progress of the investigation
- Thorough - we look at all the circumstances and facts, gather and assess evidence
- Supportive - we invite everyone involved to have a support person present during an interview (e.g., to support culturally safe practices or a health and safety representative - but not a lawyer acting in a professional capacity); employees are encouraged to seek support from their union, if applicable
- Timely - we aim to provide a resolution in a reasonable period of time
- Professional - we uphold all our employment law obligations and practice best practice records management
- Conducted safely – to protect the safety and wellbeing of children and staff
- Compliant with the law

6. Risk management

The <nominated supervisor/approved provider> will consider and manage any risks to the safety and well-being of any children or adults involved in an investigation, in line with our Child Safe Risk Management Plan and Child Protection Policy and Procedures.

Once a complaint about harm or the risk of harm is raised and an investigation is underway, our service will prioritise children's rights, safety, wellbeing and best interests above all else, including employment, reputation or convenience.

This means we will assess immediate risk to children and take temporary protection action straight away if needed. These actions will be taken as protective risk-management measures and do not suggest a finding or determination.

If a complaint involves a staff member (including a contractor, volunteer or other person involved in delivering our service), we will take immediate and proportionate protection actions to ensure children's safety while the complaint is being assessed or investigated.

Protective actions may include changes to duties, supervision, access restrictions, standing down or suspensions, or other risk controls as appropriate, in line with our child safe risk management approach.

If the complaint involves another child at the service, we will ensure that a risk assessment is conducted and management plans and controls are implemented, monitored and reviewed. Actions taken will be developmentally appropriate, proportionate and non-punitive, and will aim to support children's safety and inclusion.

7. Communication and support during an investigation

We will keep the person making the complaint informed of progress, where appropriate and lawful. Information will be shared on a need-to-know basis to protect privacy and confidentiality.

Subjects of a complaint are treated fairly and respectfully, given procedural fairness, and are informed of concerns that relate to them, unless this would compromise safety or an investigation.

We will provide appropriate support to people involved in a complaint, including clear information about the process, opportunities to ask questions, and access to support where needed, such as interpreters, support persons or alternative communication methods.

Children will be supported in an age-appropriate way and will be included in the decision-making process, where appropriate.

If a child has been harmed or is at risk of harm, where appropriate, the approved provider and nominated supervisor follow Child Protection Policy and procedures to ensure the child and affected families receive appropriate support.

8. Investigation report

After analysing the evidence, the <nominated supervisor/approved provider> will prepare an investigation report which describes the process and findings of the investigation.

Resolving a complaint

1. Making decisions about complaints

The <nominated supervisor/approved director> will decide on a course of action to resolve a complaint (on the advice of the relevant authorities if the matter relates to a child protection matter).

Outcomes might be, for example: providing professional development support/training for staff; mediation; making changes to physical and online environments, adjustments to our practices, systems, policies or procedures; implementing safety and behavioural management plans for children; performance management for staff; referrals to support services; formal staff warnings, changes of duties or termination of employment.'

Where staff are found to have breached our Child Safe Code of Conduct, appropriate disciplinary action will be taken, which may include termination of their employment or engagement with our service.

Staff who break the National Law or Regulations may also face disciplinary action by the regulatory authority.

Depending on the breach, we may need to refer the matter to the police and/or another relevant authority.

In deciding the resolution, the <nominated supervisor/approved provider> will consider:

- Any advice from relevant authorities (e.g., police, child protection authority, support services)
- Our obligations under employment law, industrial relations principles and guidelines
- Any submissions from the subject of the complaint (see procedural fairness below)
- The number of complaints against the subject of the complaint
- The number of opportunities already given to subject of the complaint person to adhere to a policy or procedure and/or change behaviour
- The seriousness of the complaint and whether it impacted the safety and welfare of children, other employees, volunteers, students or families
- Whether the complaint is reasonable

2. Procedural fairness

The <nominated supervisor/approved provider> will give the subject of the complaint a fair hearing before making a decision that might adversely affect the subject's rights or interests.

The <nominated supervisor/approved provider> will provide the subject of a complaint with:

- Opportunities to make submissions when there are informed: that they are the subject of an investigation; of any proposed adverse finding; and of any proposed action to be taken as a result of a finding
- Information about the investigation and reasons for their findings
- An explanation/justification for the decisions made and the proposed course of action
- A fair opportunity to directly address the issues

The <nominated supervisor/approved provider> genuinely consider the person's responses and submissions with an open-mind and impartiality. They will make reasonable inquiries before making a decision.

3. Communicating the decision

The <nominated supervisor/approved provider> will advise everyone who is involved of the result of the investigation and the resolution in writing and/or verbally.

4. Challenging the decision

If the person making the complaint or the subject of the complaint does not agree with the outcome of the investigation and/or the resolution, they can request a review. They will need to provide reasons for why they think either the investigation or resolution is wrong.

The <nominated supervisor/approved provider> will consider their reasons and, depending on the circumstances, may either:

- Decide that an investigation or a change to the resolution is not warranted
- Re-investigate the complaint and/or provide an alternative resolution
- Offer an external review by a Tribunal or alternate organisation, where employees, visitors and volunteers are unhappy with the outcome. Workplace bullying matters may be referred to the Fair Work Commission which can direct employers to take specific actions against workplace bullies or the Work Health and Safety (WHS) Regulator, which may investigate whether WHS duties have been contravened
- Offer information about alternative complaint resolution options, such as through the regulatory authority or ombudsman.

Records and confidentiality

1. Creating and keeping accurate records

The <nominated supervisor/approved provider> will create and retain accurate records related to concerns and complaints, in line with our record keeping and privacy policies and obligations.

Records may include correspondence, emails, phone calls, interview transcripts, incident reports, risk management plans, investigation reports and findings, decision making process, minutes from meetings, notes, submissions from those involved, reports to police or government authorities.

2. Maintaining confidentiality

We keep information our service gathers for a complaint and investigation confidential and only disclose it if we are obliged, for example, to ensure:

- Workplace safety

- The safety and well-being of a child (see our Child Protection Policy for more information on our obligations under the Child Information and Family Violence Sharing Schemes)
- The natural justice for the person accused

We follow directions about confidentiality from the relevant authorities and ensure we comply with all relevant legislation. Anyone involved in complaint or investigation must maintain confidentiality. A failure to do so by staff, volunteers or students may result in disciplinary action. Online records will be stored password protected file and physical records in a secure cabinet. Access will only be granted on a 'need to know' basis.

We follow our Child Protection Policy's guidance on record keeping for child protection matters - including on safeguards for reporters of harm or risk of harm to a child.

RESOURCE – Summary version of Complaint Handling Procedure

[This quick summary guide is optional. It summarises our Complaint Handling Policy It can be used as a hand-out, to display or in enrolment/induction packs]

We are committed to creating a safe, inclusive, and respectful environment for children, families, staff and the community. We take all complaints seriously and handle them professionally, fairly and confidentially.

Who can make a complaint?

Anyone – including children, families, community members, staff, students, volunteers and visitors – can raise a concern or complaint at any time.

What can complaints be about?

Complaints and concerns might relate to (for example):

- Our service's actions or decisions or dealings with individuals
- Allegations of physical or sexual abuse or misconduct by a staff member, contractor, student, volunteer or another individual associated with our service
- A disclosure of abuse or harm to a child (either by a child or an adult)
- The conduct of a child at our service
- Breaches of our Code of Conduct or policies
- Child safety or wellbeing concerns
- Bullying, victimisation or harassment
- Discrimination based on disability, race, ethnicity, religion, sex, intersex status, gender identity or sexual orientation
- Instances of racism – either by adults or children
- Serious incidents
- Unlawful or inappropriate conduct or discipline by staff
- Unsafe environments or practices
- Staff conduct or working conditions
- The inadequate handling of a prior concern
- General concerns about the safety of a group of children or activity

How to raise a complaint

- Try first to resolve minor issues directly and respectfully with the person involved.
- If not resolved or if serious, speak to a senior staff member, the nominated supervisor or the approved provider.

Contact details for senior staff are displayed at the entrance of the service

You can make a complaint in person, over the phone, by email, or with help from someone at our service. Anonymous complaints are accepted but may be harder to investigate.

What happens next?

- We will acknowledge your complaint within 24 hours and explain what happens next
- We will assess the complaint to decide whether an investigation is needed
- If required, we will conduct a fair, thorough and confidential investigation. Everyone involved can bring a support person
- We will keep you updated and supported throughout the process
- We will manage any risks to children, families and/or staff
- We will explain the outcome to you and the actions we've taken
- If you disagree with the outcome, you can request a review or external referral (e.g., Fair Work Commission, ombudsman, education and care regulatory authority)

Child safety comes first

If a complaint involves harm or risk of harm to a child, we must act and report it to authorities as required, following our Child Protection Policy.

Privacy and record keeping

All complaints are recorded securely and handled with respect and confidentiality. We only share information if required by law or to protect someone's safety.

We want everyone to feel safe speaking up. If you have a concern – no matter how small – please tell us.

Our full Complaint Handling Policy and Procedure is available <insert location>

RESOURCE – Child-friendly version of Complaint Handling Procedure

[This child-friendly version of our complaint handling procedure is optional. You can use it as a resource when teaching younger children about how to make a complaint and display it for children who are older and can read. Your service may wish to format this with attractive pictures or develop your own in collaboration with children]

Speaking up – it's okay to tell us!

We want everyone to feel safe, happy and respected. That means if something is wrong or worrying you, we want to know.

You can always talk to us – even if it feels like a small thing.

What can you tell us about?

You can talk to us if:

- Someone is being unkind or unfair
- You feel scared, hurt, or unsafe
- You see something that doesn't feel right
- You're upset about something that happened
- You think someone broke a rule or didn't do the right thing

Who can you talk to?

You can talk to any grown-up you trust – like your educator, the person who runs your room, or another staff member

You can also:

- Ask a friend to come with you
- Write it down or draw a picture
- Ask an adult you trust (like your parent or carer) to help you tell us

What will happen?

- We will listen carefully to you
- We will take what you say seriously
- We will do our best to help and make things better
- We will keep what you say private, unless we need to tell someone else to help keep you or others safe

You can always ask questions or check what's happening.

You won't get in trouble

It's always okay to tell us if something feels wrong. You won't get in trouble for speaking up – even if you're not sure.

We are here to listen, support and help you.

Your voice matters. If something is wrong – tell a trusted adult. We care about your safety and your feelings.
